RUSSIA WINNING War

President Roosevelt's Latest Latest and Best Information

International Jews Won Last War

When President Roosevelt told the world in his last fireside chat that he knew positively from his last and best information that the axis powers are not going to win this war, he did the world a service whose value he does not fully realize at this moment.

We have the same information upon which the President is basing his belief and our information comes from the same source as that of the President.

The last war was won by the International Jews who succeeded to drag the U. S. into it, for no other purpose than to make us pay the cost of the war to the International Jews since the British-French allies did not have enough money to pay the Jews and Germany could not have done it either.

The present war was deliberately instigated by the same International Jews who are in the banking business on a world scale and is being conducted by these Jews for the profit of Russia, who is their democracy where Judaism, atheistic Judaism, is synonymous with the state. The U. S. S. R. is the only government in the world where to talk against Jews is the same as talking against the government of Stalin. Both offenses are punished with death. This is the democracy for which America is financing this war by aiding England.

Here is the confidential information given by a returned American in the service of the United States who had been domiciled in Europe until recently:

"The present war, like most wars, is part of a game of power politics. Two new empires are struggling to emerge—the German and the Japanese. Their expansion, carried on by rough revolutionary methods, is bound to conflict with the interests of established powers. The Munich Pact may be interpreted as a deal by British conservatives to move the German expansion Eastward. For that reason the Bastion of Czechoslovakia was undermined and the Nazis invited to have it out with the Communists. The Russians, however, neatly side-stepped. They retired Litvinov, re-orientated their entire European policy, and established a Russo-German entente. The Russians politely declined the British invitation to go to war with Germany and invited the British to take the shock of German expansion instead, which they did.

Of course, for a long time the Russians have known that they must someday face enemies—The Germans and the Japanese. Once a powerful German empire were securely established in the West, and a powerful Japanese empire in the East, Russia would be reduced to a buffer state at best, or to a wretched colony like Poland. The Russians simply cannot afford to allow two strong empires to grow up around them. The only question the Russians have to settle is whether they can manage to get other powers to eliminate the double threat for them. They succeeded in maneuvering the British into a fight with the Germans and they most sincerely hope that the British will be able to occupy the attention of the Germans for sometime to come. Now if only the United States can be brought to fight the Japanese, the Russians will be out of their nutcracker position without any warlike activity on their part at all."

That the U. S. was deliberately dragged into the last war for no other reason than to pay the cost of the war to Jews who had financed it and who expected to make a profit out of reconstruction when it bankrupted Germany in such a way that Jews from all over the world

Russia Wants Alaska Back

Colliers's Magazine Shows How Communist Aliens—"Though Young Jews" Are to "Colonize" Alaska

The sweetest communist colonization scheme is being hatched out in New York for Alaska. Few people realize that the Russian revolution and bolshevik massacres had been hatched out in New York City and were financed by Jewish Wall street money long before Trotsky (Bronstein) carried them out with fire and steel. And now another scheme is being cooked up in New York city by a former Jewish officer from the Austrian army, to peacefully occupy Alaska with a group of "tough young Jews", just as Mexico has accepted hundreds of thousands of communist refugees from Spain, who are trickling slowly into the U. S. preparing the soil for a bolshevik coup.

In Collier's magazine for January 4, 1941 the following passage in Uncle Sam's Icebox by Corey Ford and Alastair MacBain, should interest every patriotic American.

But of all the screwball schemes which are being foisted on Alaska under the smoke screen of defense, the one that Alaskans dread and detest most is the proposed large-scale colonization of the territory by European refugees. Fantastic as it sounds, the idea nevertheless has gained considerable foothold in The States; and powerful racial groups are seeking to rescind our immigration laws and allow European aliens to reside in Alaska for five years—after which time, it is assumed, it would be too late to do anything about it.

Private capital is being raised to transplant these aliens to Alasaka, should the King-Havenner Bill become a law, and private citizens are volunteering to finance a so-called "Alaska Development Corporation" to pick out jobs for them—inevitably in competition with the residents of the territory.

Chilkott Sam shakes his head glumly. "After the gov'ment gets through bringing them European refugees up here," he says, "they'll have to solve the problem of taking care of all us refugee Americans that will be driven out."

For the moment, of course, the plan is being urged as a military necessity. Its sponsors claim that an unpopulated country is more liable to capture by an enemy (evidently ignoring the evidence to the contrary in Europe today), and a subsidiary organization, calling itself "The Great West Colonization Company," has actually started enlisting "tough young Jews" (we quote from its prospectus) to form an American Jewish border regiment to protect Alaska.

One Joseph Hefter, a former Austrian army officer who is acting head of this organization, has gone so far as to publish a blue-bound brochure illustrated with pictures of these tough young Jewish boys and girls, dressed in khaki riding pants with red bandannas around their necks, looking for all the world like Sunday-afternoon hikers along the Palisades. He has even started drilling them each night in his apartment on West 46th Street, New York, to get them ready for the Kenai. This winter, he says, he is going to take them up to suburban Livingston Manor to practice maneuvers in the snow.

Unsavory Restrictions

It is the "alien" part of the King-Havenner Bill that burns Alaskans most. Not that they oppose any settlement of aliens in Alaska merely because they are aliens. What they resent is the creation in Alaska of a class restricted to residence in the territory, their occupations prescribed by law, their residence in The States forbidden. Alaskans feel rightly that such discrimination would set the territory off from the rest of the United States, and thus work irreparable harm.

As for its value to territorial defense, American Legionnaires in Alaska grow purple and inarticulate at the very thought of populating our most vulnerable frontier with an army of European aliens, impossible to keep in check and almost certain to include agitators and Communist sympathizers, a potential fifth column that would be a grave peril in the event of war in the Pacific.

"It is in the guise of refugees," says Colonel John Taylor of the American Legion, "that secret agents of the dictators have been sent into England, France, the Scandinavian countries and the Balkans. In view of world conditions, it would seem of the utmost strategic importance to our national defense that all aliens should be kept out of Alaska at the present time."

Goodbye to the American Flag?

UNION NOW—TREASON

Shall We Hoist the Union Jack?

By Lillian Scott Troy
(Reprinted by request)

PASADENA,—Clarence Streit, alleged author and founder of the UNION NOW movement, which is intended to bring the Republic of these United States back under the crown of Great Britain as one of the English-speaking "democracies", which is at present outside the Empire upon which the sun never sets—because the good Lord might not wish to trust that gigantic organ of loot and despoilation alone in the dark—claims that his inspiration is but seventeen months of age, and was born of his own personal inspiration.

This movement is but another name for the old British-Carnegie plot, and has the same objective; but in order to conceal the putridity of the initial plot which was both crude and clumsy and got no further than enriching some weaklings and traitors to the United States, this one of Clarence Streit's has been wrapped up in waxed paper and fumigated with fine words—but there are so many holes in the paper that, like either a rose or a bit of garlic, the "scent clings to it still", and escapes into the clean American atmosphere. It's going to take more ability and brains than Mr. Streit and his poor minions and weaklings can muster in ten centuries to subdue that emanation of the corpse in the last stages of decomposition. 'Tis smelly.

In Pasadena, where the air is sweet and scented with the blessed perfume of flowers and orange blooms, there exists today a little office at 40 South Knoll Avenue where alleged "volunteers" to trap the unwary into this treason snare take turns in handing out literature, asking for signatures, & lauding this "great" movement to "save America". In that little office I saw two evidences of desecration—the American flag and the picture of General George Washington, strung on the walls, a mean attempt to camouflage the deadliners of the jaws of the anti-American trap—as cheese diverts the unwary mice and small-brained rodents, allays suspicion, and leaves the victim divested of all suspicion until the sharp and jagged clamps grasps and strangles his freedom for ever and ever.

As I approached this office in a quiet street not far from the heart of Pasadena's business center, I moved slowly and cautiously; I had been there once before and had expressed my sentiments—thus more self-control and diplomacy was the order of the day if I hoped to obtain one item of information which I sought. Further, I found it prudent in the interest of my search to be assured that the wild-eyed "lady" who had heard my frank opinion expressed with more or less force was not "on duty" at that time as one of the alleged "volunteers".

A young woman was seated at the desk. She turned with the almost startled alertness of a rabbit when I entered. The eyes wore the same strained look as the absent "volunteer" of a previous day. Once as a very tiny child I had been told that to capture the lovely birds which visited my father's garden in San Rafael all that was necessary was to put a pinch of salt on their tails. That long-forgotten advice drove into my mind as I stepped toward the desk. It had been my bitter experience to have lived in England for over ten years, being there before and all during the last great war; I knew of the plot to "reconquer the United States as an integral part of the British Empire" since early in 1909, a year before the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace had been founded and a set plan put into operation through which the optimists among the British and their treacherous American hirelings hoped to bring about this amazing project in 1915—if all went according to schedule. I saw this thing fail time and again, but the tragedy of it, I saw that it was steadily making progress in regard to some of its finalities.

Along came Mr. Streit with his 'entirely new' idea—shoddy, turned and remodled, but the same old wood-kitty scent being in evidence.

Knowing the horror prepared for the United States under this plan and plot I went to the office of UNION NOW—to look for a leak. I found it!

Annex U. S. A. to Britain

Talking the lingo of the traitors I took great care not to say one word which would indicate that I was in any way connected with the movement or in sympathy with its object—but so strained and nervous was the young "volunteer" that she heard only my words—and these were to the effect that I knew this person and that person very well who had been connected with this movement in England years ago— and I

ROOSEVELT WANTS WAR

WESTERN UNION

Verne Marshall, Editor, The Gazette
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

More Power to you. Keep on exposing the fact the Roosevelt administration is pledged to war and actually hinders peace on a just basis. The purpose is sabotage of American resources for the profit of the international war mongers.

Congratulations! Keep up the good work! President Roosevelt's Christmas message to the American people and the world can be summarized in these words: He and his warmongers want no peace on earth, neither good will to all men, they want war which they are financing with American resources for the profit of the international warmongers.

SOLON OPPOSED TO WAR AID FOR POWERS

NEW ORLEANS—Sen. Holman (R-Ore) says he is "positively opposed to giving any United States aid to England, China or any other foreign nation at war."

Holman, member of the senate military affairs committee and the naval affairs subcommittee of the appropriations committee, said in an interview here, "We are swinging entirely too far away from the principles established by the founders of our country and its constitution.

"I am not an isolationist, but I believe in 'America for Americans first, last and always.' The troubles of Europe and Asia are not our problems. Let them settle their own questions."

COFFIN-JEW SHOT TO TOP

NEW YORK,—Maj. A. R. Ginsburgh, of the United States army recently has been made a lieutenant colonel—one of the youngest on record. He is the man so severely lampooned by Hugh Johnson (once an officer himself) because the major, admitting that men also died in a peacetime army, said the government had bought thousands of coffins in recent months. His elevation indicates that he still stands high at the capital, where he is regarded by soldiers and civilians and newspaper correspondents as one of the finest and ablest officers of the regular army.—Ray Tucker.

AMERICA'S FOREIGN BORN

NO KEYHOLE SILVER BADGE

Walter Hunting, S. D. police officer, called me by telephone New Year's eve to tell me that the story in last week's Broom had no basis in fact concerning Billy Silver playing Santa Claus to his wife, Policewoman Hazel Erwin Hunting, by presenting her with a silver badge with the inscription: Confidential Reporter, KEYHOLE, B. S.

He also denied that Mrs. Hunting had done any reporting for the Keyhole concerning certain conversations between herself, a police matron and their superior officers. Besides that he wanted me to understand that I did not belong in the U. S. A. and should go back where I came from because I was not fit to live in America. He also expected to get a correction of last week's story. I asked to speak to Mrs. Hunting while he had me on the line.

Story Does Not Affect Her

Mrs. Hunting was very nice about it, said the story did not hurt her. She explained that she had been very much surprised to read it in The Broom, especially in view of the fact that she considered me to be fair and that I would not deliberately try to injure any member of the police force. She denied even knowing Billy Silver, editor of the KEYHOLE, if she saw him and said that she had never reported any stories to him. Then she asked why I had not contacted her before printing the rumors.

There she had me. I had violated my own rules and the code of journalism. We are never supposed to print a personal, uncomplimentary item about anybody without first making an effort to contact them to get their side of it. Since I had been too cocksure, I had to confess my breach of rule and apologized to Mrs. Hunting for it. There was no reason why I should not have contacted her since on previous occasions she had been quite accessible when I met her. She accepted my apology and it was decided that I take up the matter with Chief of Police Clifford E. Peterson who was to call the matron and Mrs. Hunting before him and bring peace into the jail situation concerning the two women.

"Go Back to Ireland"

The whole trouble started when on one occasion Mrs. Hunting had an altercation with the re-instated police matron and among other things Mrs. Hunting told her fellow police officer to "go back to Ireland" because she was not a "fit subject to handle American girls". That incident was reported in the KEYHOLE in a garbled fashion to cast a shadow over the conduct of the matron's reputation and bring her into disrepute with her superiors. I had long ago espoused the cause of the three policewomen when they were unjustly and illegally fired by the city council from their jobs under pretext that no funds were available to pay them, when in fact it was a conspiracy to punish them for being good police officers who had conscientiously carried out instructions of their superiors under George Sears as chief.

I had not known that there had been any trouble between Mrs. Hunting and the reinstated matron till Chief Peterson told me about it. Then I investigated.

Will They Apologize Also ?

Now I am man eough to confess my breach of rule, I apologized and am taking my medicine; I dish it out, but I am game to take it, too, as the saying goes.

The two Huntings labor under a superiority complex, imagining that they are better Americans than those of us who are foreign born and they are not slow in throwing it into our faces. I am quite sure that there are plenty Irish born police officers who are as good officers and Americans as either of the Huntings, and I am certainly not ashamed of my Greek parentage and if it comes to a contest as to which one of us two is a good American I bet that I would not come out second best with Walter Hunting in my loyalty to the principles of our American constitution and the loyalty with which I uphold the original American traditions of the guaranteed liberties of American citizenship.

Now I, the foreign born, am man enough to admit my mistakes, will Mrs. Hunting be lady enough to apologize for her bad slip of tongue when she held the matron to scorn for being Irish born and will Walter Hunting be man enough to apologize to me for questioning my loyalty as an American citizen?

Police officers who eat the bread of thousands of taxpayers who are foreign born, but are as good American as any native born and some better, cannot possibly do justice to their oath as officers and their duty of impartially exercising their powers as peace officers if they hold in scorn those of us who are foreign born.

CHRISTIAN MARTYRS, 1941

That being a Christian is punishable with one year in federal road camp in these U. S. A. might be news to some people, but it is the fact nevertheless. Gone is the constitutional guarantee of religious liberty, gone is the protection of the courts who should enforce this passage of the constitution: Amendent 1. Section 1. Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof: . . .

Why was this section made the first sentence in the first amendment, constituting the bill of rights of the American people?

And why is there no court in the land that dares uphold this constitution their judges have sworn to uphold? If congress has no power to prohibit the free exercise of religion why are men who demand that exercise being sent to federal road camps?

Minister Gets Jail Term for Draft Dodging

Portland, Ore.,—The Rev. Paul R. Ackermann, Methodist minister, and Edwin A. Sanders, instructor of English at Pacific college, Newberg, were sentenced to serve one year in a road camp for failure to register under terms of the national selective service act.

Federal Judge James A. Fee pronounced sentence and at the same time issued a stern warning from the bench to persons who had written letters to the court asking for leniency in behalf of the defendants.

Both Ackermann and Sanders made lengthy oral statements outlining their views and reasons for refusing to register because of religious scruples. Sanders is a member of the Quaker faith.

Under the law it becomes the duty of the courts to examine whether Ackermann and Sanders were bonafide religionists or merely faking for the purpose of evading registration. If the courts find that the minister and Quaker are sincere in their conviction the constitution prevails and congress has no power to compel them to register unless the constitution is first legally abrogated. The courts cannot do otherwise. But why do they not dare uphold, why do they not care to uphold the constitution?

Draft Objectors Work On Military Roads

FT. LEWIS,—Sentenced to one year in a federal road camp for failure to register under the draft act, two conscientious objectors [illegible] Oregon began the new year working on military roads adjoining Ft. Lewis.

The two are Rev. Paul Ackermann, 31, Portland Methodist minister, and Prof. Edwin Sanders, 28, instructor at Pacific college, Newberg. They were assigned to road jobs within plain sight of hundreds of the first conscriptees to reach Ft. Lewis.

Going Up Golgatha

Rev. Ackermann and Prof. Sanders are drawing inner comfort and energy from the divine company they are keeping during their martyrdom for their Christian faith. Jesus Christ is with them bearing His cross up Golgatha while He is being jeered and called "King of the Jews" because He refused to head their army against the Romans. The days of Christian persecution have just begun in the U.S.A. But he that endureth to the end he shall enter the Glory of the Kingdom of Christ. Woe is Thee Jerusalem, cried Jesus as He foresaw what the hard heartedness and stiff neckedness of the Jews was drawing upon that unfortunate city and Woe is Thee U. S. A. for sentencing Christians to road camps in plain sight of hundreds of the first conscriptees to reach Fort Lewis.

Every real American among those conscriptees must take his cap off to these intrepid Christians who dare stand up for what they know to be right in the sight of God. Deep down in their hearts those boys and men cannot help but repect the rare quality of the Christian souls who follow their Master by taking up their cross and carrying it in humility to obey His Commandment.

Russia Winning the War

were able to buy up German properties at forced sales for a fraction of a mill on the mark; —all these facts are history and authority for this information is none else than Winston Churchill himself.

On July 11, 1940 there appeared the following report in the National Whirligig column:

CHURCHILL'S CONFIDENCE

By Upton Close

Defeated or victorious, European nations have a pretty definite idea that Uncle Sam's big role in European wars is to pay the costs. A story told by Winston Churchill to the president of an American Rotary club, during better days for England, when the now prime minister could afford to be both cynical and candid, contains a startling lesson and warning for Americans at this moment. The American in whose attentive ears Churchill poured out this story is a prominent citizen of Ogden, Utah, president this year of a famous local organization.

Churchill then said, in substance: "Now, I'll tell you a story that nobody knows—or at least nobody has told—that will interest you. Once it became evident that America was in, and could provide several million men and would fight until she eventually got them armed, the Germans on their part were willing to concede the war. That was all right with us and the French—if the Germans would pay the costs of rehabilitation. They did not have the money, and they showed us they did not have it, and it became evident that there was only one place where it could come from, and that was the United States. But no one saw just how to get the money out of America by calling off the war. The Americans were mad at the kaiser and were out to lick him; not to put up their cash to buy peace between him and the Allies.

"It was realized that the war would have to be brought home to Americans, that they would have to become deeply involved, would have to suffer and lose men and taste the hardships of wartime economy —in short, that it would have to become their war before peace would appear to be their peace. Out of deep involvement, proud of victory, but glad to end it all and get some millions of American soldiers back home, the United States would then fall an easy mark—a volunteer—to the scaling down of war debts, the advancing of reparations loans, the providing of gold and materials and credits without which the nations of Europe, defeated and victor alike, could not resume peace economies. So the German armies were ordered to fight on, and American soldiers were given more and more of the fight to carry—until Germany collapsed and tens of thousands of American boys had fallen."

The point was that financial scheming, not desperation over victory, lay behind the nineteen months' active campaign in Europe. The implication was that Uncle Sam was "taken" for a sucker. The moral would seem to be that this time the error should not be repeated—though victor and defeated be reversed.

The Rural Press

While press and radio propaganda seems to take it for granted that the U. S. will eventually go to war I notice from exchanges of weekly and rural papers that the editors of the grass roots communities are determined to offest this defeatist attitude. We also noticed that Verne Marshall, editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette, is heading the No Foreign War committee quite energetically to offset the propaganda of the Allen White committee.

From among the exchanges coming to my desk from various states in the Union I shall cite tonight Editor M. Z. Remsburg, of the Vista Press;—Vista is a little town in San Diego county. He starts his editorial column with this quotation from Mark Twain:

"NEVER AN HONORABLE WAR—There has never been a just war or an honorable one. I can see a million years ahead and this rule will never change. The loud little handfull will shout for war. The pulpit will object at first. The great, big, dull bulk of the nation will rub its sleepy eyes, and try to make out why there should be a war, and will say: 'it is unjust and dishonarable, and there is no necessity for it'. Then the handfull will shout lounder. A few fair men on the other side will have a hearing and will be applauded; but it will not last long; those others will outshout them and presently the anti-war audiences will thin out and lose popularity.

"Before long you will see this curious thing: The speakers stoned from the platform, and free speech strangled by hordes of furious men, who in their hearts are still one with those stoned speakers—but do not dare say so. And now the whole nation, pulpit and all will take up the war cry, and mob any honest man who ventures to open his mouth; and presently such mouths will cease to open."

But there is one thing which I always remember. God rules the world, rules my life and yours, rules these U. S. and the public officials are all pledged to abide by God's rule when they take that solemn oath of office. That fact and its realization gives me new strenght not to worry about the future of mankind or of this nation. Mob rule is a passing phase. And as Mark Twain said, the hordes of furious men who have worked themselves into a frenzy, these men are in their hearts still one with the stoned speakers and prophets of peace. We noticed it this week during the Christmas season. For a while everyone felt kindly disposed towards his neighbor as the Christmas spirit caught on. This goes to show that down in their hearts even enemies are human. British and German aviators were glad they did not have to bomb each others' countries during the Christmas truce. Down in their hearts neither of them really want war, really want to kill each other and lay waste the labors of generations. For after all Germans and Britons are of the same blood and common ancestry of Teutonic origin; they never give in for long when they are oppressed.

Medical Science and Christian Science

In last week's issue of the BROOM you will find an article by our eminent contributor, Dr. George Starr White of Los Angeles, M. D., in which he demonstrates scientifically the very fact which has formed the keystone of Christian Science practice, namely the power of mind over the human organism. Dr. White cites scientific experiments and observations to show that health cannot be produced by mechanical devices or exercise, but only by the power of will when directed to the brain in order to exercise certain parts of the body. Only exercise where the human mind plays a conscious part and is directed by the will, actually produces lasting and beneficial results in the unfoldment of the human organism. He calls it "Making the Muscles Mind the Man". The same truth has been stated thousands of years ago by the Ancient Teachers of mankind and a whole system of rythmic breathing with exercises, song and postures has been evolved and bodily copied by the rituals of Greek, Roman, Anglican and Jewish Churches. When you see them singing in chorus, kneeling down and rising again, bending to touch the floor with their foreheads, as the Mohammedans, Greeks and Russians do, bear in mind it is a most splendid exercise that promotes regularity, especially if you realize what you are doing. To go one step further from the mere physical and mental exercise to the spiritual attitude one must take to reach harmony with himself and the power of life which animates us, let go of fears and worry, realizing that the power which animates us is the power of God. You cannot give life to anybody. But life is all around us, is in us. It has its own way of being and unless you comply with its own nature, you become sick. And this life is the power of God in you and in me. We must conform to it, whether we wish to or not, if we intend to be healthy, if we intend to think rightly. It is therefore only wise that we yield to the Intelligence which rules supreme and which animates us that we may learn to know the secrets and the reason of our being here. This spiritual attitude of yielding one's mind, one's will, to respond and re-echo the Will of God, the Father, that His Will be revealed to us and we know what is the best thing to do in any circumstances, this is the key principle upon which Christian Science practice is built. It will be found in time that religion never contradicted science, that THE TRUTH is the same ONE no matter in what department of life we search for it. There is unity thruout all realms of existence, be it physical, mental, moral, spiritual.

And this again reminds us that we cannot gain the Kingdom of God by force, Mark Twain and Jesus Christ are revealing the same truth. Mark Twain put it in his own words: "There never has been a just war or an honorable one". But only those who realize the presence of God in their own being, who realize that Life is not something which a man can give another, but only a gift from God which must be used according to divine rules and regulations if it is to give us satisfaction, happiness and wellbeing; only when one awakens to this truth that one understands the full meaning of Mark Twain's words as well as the reason why Jesus stopped Peter from wielding the sword in defense of Jesus' person when the Jewish guard arrived in Gethsemane to arrest the master.

No matter what men may do on earth, no matter how they abuse their powers, God is the power over life and death and Jesus promised that He, Himself will come again to walk here upon this planet and we who dare stand up for His teachings in practice and refuse to kill, we shall be here with Him.This is the resurrection and has always been known in the far East as reincarnation. That is why Jesus encouraged His disciples to not fear martyrdom, persecution, jail and humiliation, even death, for he who gives up his life because he prefers to obey God and God's commandments, he opens up new avenues of life unknown to the materialistic minded and violent tyrants and mobs of this world. And such dedication of one's life in the service of God, produces souls who learn to know God. It takes centuries and generations to produce such souls from the mass of humanity. As one thousand years after another passes into history, those who dare hold high their faith in God and do not yield to tyrants who usurp command over their very souls and consciences, they fit themselves for the Kingdom of God; for only people who will not murder, will not cheat, will not lie, will not steal regardless of what the pressure is on them, are strong enough to stand the light of TRUTH and enjoy it. The others are afraid of the truth, it is alien to their nature because they do not love God with all their heart and soul.

New Year's Resolutions

Two weeks ago I reminded my audience that it would be a good idea to send THE BROOM to friends and relatives as a Christmas present. The response was immediate. I really was surprised. I have not made it customary to sell the BROOM over the air. I leave it to your own good judgment to subscribe or to contribute your mite to defray the expense of this radio program. But the prompt response I received from the Christmas invitation made me think that perhaps you expect to be invited. So don't be bashful! Many a time after you heard me over the air you might have said to yourself, I ought to read that fellow's paper. So start the New Year right and send us that check for your subscription. It's only $2.50 a year, or $1.30 for six months. Simply address: THE BROOM, East San Diego, California.

"Timid Owners" of the Press

After receiving a postal card invitation to attend a meeting of the San Diego League for the Defense of Democracy at the Unitarian Church on Friday, Dec. 13th, I went to find out what Murney Mintzer, principal speaker, had to say on the Menace of a Monopolized Press. I was very much disappointed when Mintzer announced that he knew very little about it, because he had been only a short time employed as editorial writer on our two San Diego papers, the UNION and the TRIBUNE. Then Mintzer took an hour to show how little he knew and I was sorry I had come to hear him. He charged the owners of the press with being "too timid" to come out with vital facts and to this timidity he ascribed the decline of the daily press. Being the only owner of a paper present at that meeting I asked Dr. Lewis Lesley, professor from state college who was chairman, to give me 15 minutes to reply to the misstatements made by Mintzer in his hour-long speech. But Lesley gave me only 3 mniutes, evidently, in defense of democracy.

The reason why the daily papers do not present the real vital news and do not have an aggressive editorial policy to protect the rights of the people and of the individual citizen, is because the common people do not uphold them. The moment an editor dares tell unpleasant truth, he is being boycotted by those he exposes. The mass of the people have their nose to the grindstone and do not take time to study, think and weight the causes of their poverty. Those who dare go to the root of this situation, naturally, are pointing to defects in the existing system. The moment an editor stands up for the underlying principles, it goes over the head of what Mark Twain calls, "the big, dull bulk of the nation", but the special interests who exploit the people immediately start their propaganda to stamp the honest editor as a crank, or a dangerous radical. The big, dull bulk falls for this propaganda and the editor discovers a falling off in circulation.

Because the bulk of the people are not interested in fundamental truth, the press of today has to look for financial support from advertisers and naturally they have to please them I know from personal experience.

HOW TO AVOID CHRISTMAS HAZARDS

IN Ozark, Missouri, a little boy was playing the part of a dwarf in a Parents and Teachers Christmas party. The lighted candle he was given to carry ignited his false whiskers and then his costume, resulting in his death.

When planning Christmas parties, trimming the tree, and putting up decorations, keep in mind the fact that most of the materials used are combustible. Even the Christmas tree will burn, particularly after it has been in the house a few days. Watch out for fire hazards and take care not to add any unnecessary ones. Don't, for example, put cotton around the base of the tree; it is too inflammable. Last year the tip of a match fell into some of this "snow" and burned down a house in New Jersey. Two other fires, one resulting in the death of two people, were started when cotton under a tree was ignited by over-turned electric trains, and another was caused by a wood-burning set. If you want the snow-like effect, buy one of the fireproof materials readily available at the stores.

Replacing wax candles on the Christmas tree by electric lamps, has reduced fire hazards at this season enormously. But the electric lamps have brought some new hazards of their own which everyone should know about. Such hazards result from exposed "live" parts of Christmas tree lighting sets. If lamp bases of the sets are too long for the sockets, part of the lamp bases will extend, and be exposed. This over-length is common to foreign-made lamps. Or if the insulation is cracked off of the wires of the set, or if the insulation is pulled back where the wires enter the sockets, the live wires may be exposed. Metal tinsel or metal reflectors in the tree may contact two such live parts, and if this happens, a flash will result which may ignite the tree. Every year, fifty to one hundred reports are received of fires caused in this way. Always examine a Christmas tree set before putting it on the tree. If it is defective, throw it away and get a new one.

In considering gifts of electrical toys to a child, thought should be given to his age, and to the character of the toy. Electric trains are generally safe. If tracks are laid on cotton, as described above, trouble of course is likely to result, but when properly used, trains have a good record of safety. They employ transformers to reduce the voltage; in this, trains are different from other electrical toys which connect directly to the house circuit. It should be remembered that the same hazards exist in these toys as are found in appliances built for adult use. This is true particularly of the shock hazard.

If electrical toys are to be given to children, care should at least be given to the quality of the electric attachment cords, because it is the breakdown of the cord which often starts trouble. See that the cord is of a good quality and bears the bracelet-like label of Underwriters' Laboratories wrapped around it. It is a good idea to look for this label on the cords of all of the lamps and appliances purchased as Christmas presents. Safe construction in the cord means longer and safer operation of the appliance.

Last year after Christmas, boys in Chicago collected a number of dried trees and had a big bonfire. One boy's clothes caught fire, resulting in fatal burns. See that your tree is safely disposed of. Don't put it in the garage or cellar, but dispose of it as soon as it is dismantled.

IT PAYS

God moves in most mysterious ways
His signs and wonders to perform.
To heed His bidding surely pays,
For else we'll reap a storm.

None but a fool would disobey
The still small voice within—
This giver of the greatest joy
Who makes us always win.

Let's listen then to it's dictate
And follow strictly it's command.
It's order is: To bury hate
And join loving our brother's hand.

FORCE OF HABIT

Have you heard about the absentminded medico who took a casual glance over a new book his wife had bought?

Later she complained someone had removed part of the volume.

"I guess I am to blame," he confessed, "I noted it was marked 'appendix' and I clipped it out as a matter of course."

"The German Word" vs. Roosevelt's Oath of Office

The SATURDAY EVENING POST had an editorial on the value of Hitler's promises to safeguard the surrounding countries. The SATEVEPOST failed to state the conditions under which Hitler made such a promise, for he was very specific in stating that he offered them "more binding proposals" so that his promise of immunity of invasion was conditioned by these mutual relations, which meant that Germany's neighbors were not to allow Jews to undermine Germany's commerce and industry under the aegis of world wide "boycott Germany" committee. When the neighboring countries continued to protect the Jewish borers, Hitler crossed the borders and chased the Jews out. It was a case of self-defense after formal warning had been given the respective governments about the "casus belli".

Hitler has kept his promises to the German people to free them from Jewish exploitation. Let us now compare "Roosevelt's Word" to his American constituents and in the case of President Roosevelt it is not merely a promise but an oath in the name of God to keep faith. His oath reads: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my abiliy, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Compare this with the following news item among the long array of acts by which Roosevelt went to work to destroy the constitutional provisions as "outmoded, of the horse and buggy age, etc."

ECHO—Statesmen are always haunted by their own words, few more often than Mr. Roosevelt. After he characterized New Hampshire's Tobey as the only senator who ever advocated disobedience of a law, someone dug up his own remarks in a letter of July 5, 1935, to the late Chairman Sam Hill of a house ways and means subcommittee. Writing in favor of the Guffey coal bill, the President said:

"I hope your committee will not permit doubts as to constitutionality, however reasonable, to block this suggested legislation."

LICENSED MEDICAL MURDERS

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

I wonder if it does any good to relate what I have learnt during the past two days. Publish it or not as U see fit.

Down town here there is a big store—several—but I had a hunch to go into one in particular. As I enterd, one of the head men met me and askt me to come over to his private desk. As he lookt worried, I too was concerned. He said gloom had hit their establishment. Said four of their best salesmen and floor walkers were dead and four more about to pass on. He askt me to bear with him while he told me the story.

He said a week ago today one floor walker said he felt "chilly" and thot he better go home early. He was told to go home then and not wait. As soon he he reacht home his wife took his temperature and said it was up a degree or two. She cald in a neiberhood doctor. He said he might have pneumonia, so better go to a hospital. The wife did not want to have him go, but said if he went she would go too and stay by to help if she could. As soon as they reacht the hospital the local doctor who had sent for the ambulance, came in. Then a blood test was made and the report was that he was about to have "pneumonia", but it could be warded off by some new remedy that was given with a hypo—a special "shot". This was given the man as he was put to bed. As his wife acted so fearful, the hospital doctor advised her to have a "shot", so as to prevent her taking the "pneumonia" from her husband. About then a sister of the wife came in. She told the wife she better do as the doctors said. So the wife took a "shot" of a new form of Sulphonilamide. In a few minutes another blood test was made and another "shot" was given each—to the husband and his wife. The following morning both of them were dead.

The news soon reacht the store. Before the day was over three more of the clerks ranging in ages from 35 to 50 years were sick from fear, or a cold, and were sent home. Each had a doctor and each was sent to the same hospital (why I cannot find out). Their blood was tested, so relatives say, and each given a "shot" of "some fever medicin". (This was a form of Sulphonilamide I ascertained). The next day one of them was dead and two days later the other two were dead. Now four more of the best salesmen in the place, I was told, are home sick, but have decided to call in no doctor. I am informed that they are getting over a "cold" by having cleand the bowels out at once and abstaining from all solid food—fruit juices only.

I talkt with several in the big store and found out that a certain nurse advised all with a "cold" to get certain doctors and, if a fever were evident, to go to a certain hospital and get "a shot" of a "new" medicin that would cure and prevent "colds". One clerk told me he thot it was "funny" about the "shots", but was taken to shaking from a "nervous chil", I should judge. He was sent home, but his wife said she would take care of him and no doctor could come into her house. He was out in two days and told me his story!

I have in the past few hours lernd of MANY deaths from these "shots" and they are all victims of some form of Sulphonilamide. Now there are nearly twenty forms of this deadly drug being used by M. D.s in hospital practis. . . . As I write this, fone rang, and told of three more deaths from same agencies.

NURSE KILLED IN SERUM TEST

WORCESTER, Aug. 27.—Pretty Anne C. Duggan, 21, Worcester State Hospital attendant, who for a $2 bonus volunteered to become a human guinea pig and have an allergy serum injected under her skin, died 10 minutes after submitting to medical experimentation there today, it was revealed as an exhaustive investigation of all the circumstances of her unusual death was being conducted by local officials and authorities of the State department of mental health.

Miss Duggan, one of 12 nurses and attendants at the hospital who had offered themselves for the test was apparently possessed of a rare sensitivity which so affected her thymus gland and her heart, weakened by a childhood rheumatic fever, that death was almost instantaneous when the serum entered the blood stream.

Doctors injected adrenalin into her heart and then used artifical respiration in an attempt to revive her, but without avail, and 10 minutes after the serum injection she was pronounced dead, innocent victim of the desire of medical experts to find some new method of aiding insane patients to be restored to normality.

Miss Duggan took a position as nursing attendant five weeks ago at the State Hospital.

According to an explanation of the case given tonight by Dr. Walter E. Barton, acting superintendent of the institution, Miss Duggan was one of 12 attendants and nurses who volunteered this morning to submit themselves to an allergy experiment conducted by Dr. Hans Mulholm of the hospital staff, a former physician of the allergy clinic at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Dr. Barton said tonight that when Miss Duggan took employment, a clinical examination did not reveal her heart ailment. Her mother said her family physician had examined the girl a month ago and had pronounced her fit.

Dr. Barton explained tonight that Dr. Mulholm had injected two drops of two-tenths of a cubic centimeter of blood from a guinea pig under Miss Dugan's skin to test her reaction to a foreign protein. The serum so affected her thymus gland and heart that death resulted.

Medical Examiner Ernest L. Hunt, who performed an autopsy, tonight gave it as his opinion that a heart condition caused by a rheumatic fever in her youth was the principal cause of death, as scars of the heart infection were visible upon examination of the organ.

Medical Examiner Ernest L. Hunt said death was due to "anaphylaxis—an accident resulting from an experimental injection". He said the substance used was haemoglobin from a guinea pig.

Dr. Clifton T. Perkins, commissioner of the State Department of Mental Health, upon being informed of the girl's death immediately ordered a thorough investigation this afternoon and sent Dr. William Gaebler, assistant commisioner, to the hospital with authority to conduct a full probe.

"This girl, who was an employee of the hospital, died there as the result of some experimental work," Dr. Perkins stated. "We are trying to find out just what happened."

Last night it was explained by Dr. Barton doctors at the Worcester State Hospital have been experimenting with normal persons, nurses and attendants, in order to make comparisons with the allergy reactions upon inmates at the hospital. He described today's innoculation of the 12 nurses and attendants as simply another stage in a long series of experiments.

Dr. Barton emphasized that the doctors had not the slightest inkling the girl was sensitive to such a serum or that she had a heart or gland condition. He pointed not only to the clinical examinatoin made when she obtained employment, but to the fact of the examination by the family physician within recent weeks.

Wise Men Don't Take God's Name in Vain

My dear de Aryan:

Have just read your "review" of my book, "Hell and Amen—the Voice of the Bad Lands", in your issue of December 23rd.

You may be right in most of your conclusions, but I must call you on one of them. I am not giving the book to everyone who wants one. I did give you one for I know that the press and the clergy always expect to get everything free.

You criticize me because I ignore God. Should I boost Him, just because He and Moses were in partnership in the frog, lice, grasshopper and boil business in Egypt? And because God ordered the destruction of all save the virgins and those to be kept for the use of the Jewish soldiers? Or should I have praised God because he parted the waters of the Red Sea and then closed the gap on the Egyptians?

God made Adam and then performed a ribectomy on him and Adam married the rib. Later on God dry cleaned the world with a flood and killed off everybody except four Jewish couples—the cream of the earth—and still later God sent a son to "save" us in a world which the Father had created. Fine story to tell Morons.

Just when is this "saving" business to start? We are pretty well fed on broken promises by Roosevelt and the Lord, too. Where was the Saviour when Hitler marched into Poland, Norway, Holland and Belgium? What, if anything, has the Saviour been doing the past eight years to protect Americans against the ravages of a government without character? What was the Saviour doing on November 5th, 1940, when the forces of corruption stole America?

Any information that you can give me regarding the present whereabouts and occupation of the Saviour will be greatly appreciated.

If you were a regular ordained minister instead of a walking delegate for Asiatic religious hooey, I know what your answer would be, "I prefer, brother, to talk this matter over with you personally".

I trust that your answers will be so clear cut and convincing that they will restore me to mental soundness and will drive the "fool" out of me as Jesus drove several devils out of one man. I will see if I can buy a herd of swine so that they may inherit the "fool" which you drive out of me, and then they can commit suicide by jumping into the Yellowstone River, as soon as the ice goes out in March or April.

I am Reverend Sir,

Yours in Hell and Amen,

FRANK C. HUGHES, Glendive, Montana.

P. S. Did you know that there are 1770 Gods in the world today? I would like to know which particular God you are boosting. Which is the true one, and who told you so?

We Always Give Value in Return

"The Broom" does not "always expect to get everything free". When Hughes sent us his book he expected to get free publicity in return and he is getting a good deal more than he expected and a mighty fine opportunity to stop making an ass of himself, if he does not like the word "fool".

Since Hughes is telling us that he knows that there are 1770 Gods in the world today, we first will have to settle that matter before we can proceed to talk about God in the singular. I never said we had 1770 Gods. It's up to Hughes to prove not only that there are 1770 but that each one of them is God. Then the next move will be up to me.

In the meantime he might just as well prepare himself to prove his other positive assertions, namely that God ordered the destruction of all save the virgins and those to be kept for the use of the Jewish soldiers.

I hope my answers are clear cut enough so Hughes who seems to understand English and the art of debate, may now proceed with his end of the job to which he has challenged me.

HELL and AMEN

A BOOK REVIEW

By David de Aryan

"Hell and Amen—The voice of the Badlands" by Frank C. Hughes is a collection of letters written by him to various people thruout the country. I don't believe that many of you will ever get a chance to read "Hell and Amen"; for the book was not printed as a money-making venture.

This is one of the few non-fiction books that have not bored me. Mr. Hughes' caustic wit is present on every page. He also intersperses the letters with a few worthy poems. Mr. Hughes is quite an inventor. He not only constructs mechanical devices for the spraying of holy water on automobiles; but also has conceived new ways to lower the national debt. The most notworthy idea the government licensing of 'purgatory-prayors', who have to give up their client as a bad job if after ten years of praying the rotter doesn't reach heaven. A chronological history of religions from Akhenaten to Roosevelt is related in a very amusing manner. Some pertinent facts are also presented. The similarity between the life of Jesus Christ and Zoroaster, the sun-worshipper, is very marked. His history reveals the last two of the TWELVE COMMANDMENTS: "11—an eye for eye; 12—O. K. to sell spoiled meat to strangers".

Some have called Mr. Hughes an atheist. This is probably true, but can one blame him? He has the utmost contempt for our so-called Christian Churches. What deeds have been committed in the name of Christ?! Mr. Hughes is nothing but the product of his surroundings. He tells us as a child he was of an inquiring mind. As he grew older, he saw the crimes committed by the churches and their absurdities. Most of them were—and are—out for material gain. None did right for the sake of right but because they were scared of Hell. I am surprised our "Christian" religions haven't produced more Hughes.

A thoroly enjoyable book that even a broad-minded "Christian" might enjoy; altho I don't believe even he could stomach the stuff about the Virgin Mary. My Dad gave him Hell for it, and I say Amen.

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

Is London becoming a shambles? The trouble with war is that of all battles of force—no one wins. Especially if the war strings out for months, maybe years, and England 'wins' as expected up to now, she will be such a wreck, and the people will be such wrecks, as to be incapable of profiting by victory.

Ingersoll

France and Denmark may stand forth as examples of appeasement, that live to rejoice over their choice of a lesser evil.

'Friendships versus battleships' is the slogan of freedom. We are now in the throes of battleship statesmanship, and we are there because friendship statesmanship has been discarded.

England made the last great gesture in this world movement, in ending her splendid record of world free trade, because (immediately) of world war conditions, a quarter century ago.

But behind this was the cause of restricted domestic trade. England, proud of her free foreign trade that had made her the greatest and most respected old-world nation, finally found it impossible to resist the pressure against freedom, because resting on all its industry and consumption was a tax burden that its landed aristocracy could have carried.

England is the tragic symbol of her own apostacy to what she is credited with being—a modern democracy. She is apostate to Freedom of Trade. Her apostacy stands forth at home and abroad.

Her abandonment of her leadership of the world as a free trade nation, after having built the most democratic possible empire by this power of freedom, is her most obvious failure.

But behind and causing this reversal of peace and prosperity tradition, was her abandonment of domestic free trade, in unloading ALL costs of government, from LANDlords who originally —and comfortably—carried it, on to the bent backs of its consumers, cutting trade in half, and making paupers of its masses, and—as Lloyd George said—'trespassers on their own soil!'

'Draft is not a full dress affair'. Thus our greenhorn conscriptess and their loving mothers and sisters have had to be bluntly told to wake the boys up to the fact that 'they're in the army now', and had better be getting tough.

The disillusionment of the early consignments of draftees was expressed in such impedimenta as big suitcass, small steamer trunks, handsomely framed photographs, scrap books, albums, diaries, and stationery sets. A few million of crossed fingers may help in keeping us out of war!

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

"Savage" Germany has the most humane laws in any country. One of the first laws passed by Hitler when he came into power was a stringent law against inhumane practices. Vivesection is almost prohibited.

That when President Lincoln needed money desperately for Reconstruction, Louis Napoleon refused French funds, England who had financed our Southern States in rebellion, also refused, but Germany took several hundred millions of our U. S. bonds.—Occult Digest.

BOYCOTT IMMORAL ACTORS, CHURCH OFFICIAL URGES

OMAHA, Neb.—Boycott of actors who live immoral lives, as well as the banning of immoral plays, was urged by Msgr. E. J. Hunkeler, pastor of St. Cecelia's cathedral, at a ceremony reinstating the Legion of Decency here.

"Recent events," Msgr. Hunkeler said, "have demonstrated that the motion picture industry has not fully learned its lesson. Therefore it is necessary to continue the good work of the Legion of Decency."

It's beginning to look as if we are getting back down to a common sense basis. A speaker got up before a parent-teacher group the other day and suggested that it might be a good idea to teach children how to work.

Goodbye to the American Flag?

just rattled on, not giving the woman an apportunity to question me. I took the logical view that if I 'named names' of such a tribe she would take it for granted that I must be of the same stripe myself. I guessed right. 'Twas, however, no compliment on my own pride that my personal appearance was such—in her estimation—that she had accepted me as 'one of them'.

The lady handel me a dozen petitions and asked me to have them signed by my friends and return them as quickly as possible as they were sending on signed petitions so that Mr. Streit could present them to Congress in Washington—showing that the people of the United States were in favor of joining the Commonwealth of British Nations! She pointed out to me what lingo to adopt in obtaining signatures: dupes and innocents were to be "shown" that the United States would have 27 votes in this Parliament, and all the other British "democracies" would have their proportion, but by some twist of figures which would have driven Euclid to madness—the United States would have the control of herself and all the other British democracies through this huge vote of 27 delegates or representatives. The 27 shining brillancies of treason were to be selected—by the governing body, of course; or, it was to be through 'some kind of an election', perhaps. However, that was not so important since the remainder of the 130,000,000 Americans were to be in the trap, anyway. Then, in perusing the petition I noted that old mother India, with her teeming millions had been left out—and had no vote at all. If this voting galaxy was based truly on some sort of population basis, and the American Republic which was to abandon its sovereignity was to have 27 representatives to this British Commonwealth of Nations super-Government, then how could India, one of the British dependencies, have been left out? I was asking a question! The volunteer had the answer, but it was not for the vulgar. Since I was under suspicion of being one of the initiates the lady opened the trottle. She informed me that the people of India were not fit for representation—too ignorant, etc! But, she essayed, after this great commonwealth of UNION NOW was formed and in operation—India would be represented by British officials! Swamped! I figured quickly the proportion India would have of British masters as her "representatives" in this Parliament of the super-Government, as the woman called it, and it came to the bright sum of 56 votes. Swamped!

I was told not to mention this to people whom I would ask to sign the petition—and I got out quickly, but with an almost uncontrollable urge to stand and salute the picture of General Washington, raise my hand and openly swear allegiance to him, our flag, and our nation.

I had asked if the unit of the United States would be permitted still to retain our flag. Yes, what a question! Could we retain our flag! The woman hestitated. She was not certain! She never had had that question arise before, but she opined that we might be able to keep the flag on the precedent that all the "states" had been allowed to retain their respective flags when entering the Union—but she had doubts, and would write to New York at once and ask Mr. Clarence Streit whether the United States would be allowed to keep its flag after it entered the British Commonwealth of Nations!

Would I give her my name and address and she would write and let me know. Let an American citizen know whether her dear land could retain its flag after it had been slithered into this super-Government!

Yes, I gave her that name and address. It conveyed nothing to her. She probably was too young and too inexperienced to have known anything about me or my fight of over thirty years to obviate just this danger, and this treason movement. Mr. Streit would have been more awake, thus far no communication has been received by me as to whether the nation fought for by Washington shall be permitted to possess and hoist that emblem of our nationality should we be enticed into the British Commonwealth of Nations by adventurers and traitors.

In asking for information about who would head the super-Government the lady looked at me in surprise. Why, the King, of course! Oh, yes, the British flag would be the flag of the super-Government, but she was uncertain whether the United States' flag would be permitted at all. She would have to ask Mr. Streit.

Will Martin Dies Investigate ?

Citizens, ask your Senator and your Congressman to ask the President if he will, as the sworn protector of the nation, request Hon. Martin L. Dies to cease hopping after minnows—and go full steam ahead and investigate Mr. Streit, his British super-Government agents whose object is the destruction of the sovereignity of the Republic of the United States, and the sliding of this country into monarchial "democracy"—as a vassal state!

OUR GROUNDHOG WORLD

By GEO. CARTWRIGHT

Europe's Loss, American's Gain

David Gibson's editorial in Cleveland Citizen contains so much important economic truth, we regret limit of space permits quoting only the high spots:

"One way a business can be unknowingly liquidated by those in control, is in the creation of intolerable conditions by suppression and injustice to its human organization, which finally seeks more harmonious surroundings with competing concerns to this mutual benefit and growth."

"And this is, in principle, just about what is happenings in Europe today—particularly in Germany, and very much to our American profit."

"Men of character and skill are independent, individual; they are first to seek and obtain relief from personal or social injustice and to the profit in wealth to the country in which they take refuge."

"Henry VIII, who ruled England from 1509 to 1547, gave away the land of his domain to his royal cronies and to the tax burden and unemployment of his working subjects. This started emigration to colonial America."

"When England extended social oppression over here by taxation without representation and industrial restriction, her American subjects rose in revolution, and the mother country lost the colonies."

"Under economic oppression, the Irish, a splendid race of imaginative people, were reduced to pick and shovel—great Irish landlords raised Pat's rent when he planted flowers in his dooryard."

"This started emigration to the U. S. and today, the sons of these are found to be outstanding in every phase of industrial and professional life."

"Then, there are the Italians, always suffering economic oppression, but who, in spite of the beauty and love of country came to America in large numbers, beginning about the mid-80's. They did much of our work, both skilled and unskilled, very much to our profit and theirs."

"Europe's loss is America's gain."

Free (?) Press

"We find, according to Editor & Publisher, that eight years ago our citizens elected a President supported by only 40% of our daily press. Four years ago we elected a President supported by only 36% of the press. Last November we elected a President supported by less than 23% of our daily press."—Harold L. Ickes.

This proof of independent thought marks the longest step in human progress since about 1912 when voters decided in different states they were intelligent enough to use the Initiative, Referendum and Recall. Prior to that the man who advocated people voting on their own laws or recalling unsatisfactory lawmakers were considered socialists, anarchists, etc. "Bolshevik and Communist", are more modern terms of contempt for all who think and question the rule of the predatory.

Lazarus at The Gate

"We do not want your Charity, we do not want your Dole!
Nor any drop of your souphouse slop to canker manhood's soul!
We want our chance to earn our own by God's appointed plan:
In the sweat of our brow with pick or plow—and no thanks to any man.
God never made a mendicant—the charge is blasphemy!
For every birth the fruitful earth provides abundantly.
The Earth provides abundantly, but the Earth is Greed's estate,
And with parchments old, he keeps his hold, with Lazarus at the gate.
We want no man's gratuity—our right is to be Free!
And we claim our share, as Nature's heir, in Nature's legacy!
We do not want your charity,
We do not want your dole,
But we want our Earth, by right of birth.
Released from Greed's control!—HORATIO.

Production For Use

"Labor" RR Brotherhood weekly informs us the late Robert Marshall of the U. S. Forest Service, left half of his estate of $1,534,070 to aid trade unionism, the other half to advance the cause of civil liberties and for preservation of wild life in America. The fund for Labor is to be used to "educate the people of the United States to the necessity and desirability of the development and organization of persons engaged in work or of unemployed persons and for the promotion of an economic system based upon the theory of production for use and not for profit."

With most people, fear of poverty plus desire for security and independence, is probably the largest incentive upholding production for profit. The economic system students learn in Henry George School of Social Science, headquarters in New York, educating how to abolish poverty and provide permanent security, will go far to reduce or abolish the struggle for profits and certainly rub out the private privilege of confiscating out Land Rent—community made and reaching such figures as $100,000 to $300,000 a year, paid to parasites in cities for use of a single acre.

War vs. Business Profits

Montgomery Ward & Co's net profit for three months ending Oct. 31st, fell to $4,405,322 as againt $7,932,680 for same period in 1939.—S. F. Chronicle, 11-10-1940.

Douglas Aircraft profits rose from $2,382,159 for first three quarters of 1939 to $7,288,335 for same period in 1940.—Christian Century, Nov. 13.
